A CURATED DREAM LOST SOMEWHERE AMIDST THE CLUTTER. KOLSHET IS OVERCROWDED.

While Kolshet is positioned as a premium market,
high-density living has created a noticeable concern.

CROWDED SPACES, COMPROMISED LIVING.

What's meant to be enjoyed, turns into something you wait for.

The Hidden Reality of Kolshet

- Thousands of homes. One development. Density pushed to the extreme within a single footprint.
- Amenities are shared by too many. One gym. One pool. Everyone competing to use the same spaces, all within crowded developments sold as premium.

THE EVOLUTION OF TASTE FROM BEST TO BESPOKE.

From crowded dining spots to boutique seating.

From grand hotels to personalised stays.

From what is widely owned to what is quietly chosen.

Experiences everywhere are being reimagined, refined and intentional.

The same shift is now shaping real estate.

Even within gated communities, amenities are now designed around experience, not just presence.

They are becoming a reflection of how residents choose to live.

More considered, more personal, and thoughtfully curated.

KOLSHET'S EXCITING NEW CHAPTER

Elevated Living that's truly yours.

The future of living is moving away from the crowded, towards the curated. That is exactly what Kolshet has been missing.

A lifestyle ecosystem designed to offer more: more amenities, more comfort, more experiences, shared by a select few.

Spread across ~2 acres, this thoughtfully planned address brings together a host of everyday experiences within one cohesive, self-sustained environment.

A WORLD OF EXPERIENCES WITHOUT THE CROWD.

More to choose from.
Fewer to share it with.
Amenities that are not just created,
But remain accessible.
Not built for scale.
But for a select few.

KOLSHET, THANE'S MOST COVETED ADDRESS.

Thane is now a network of high-performing micro-markets with consistent price growth. At its heart sits Kolshet seamlessly connected to the station and key parts of the city, yet still trading at a lower premium than similar established addresses.

KOLSHET IS SATURATED. ACCESS IS NO LONGER EASY.

Over the years, Kolshet too has reached saturation. Premium developments by reputed brands have pushed prices to ₹22,000 PSF and beyond, making entry increasingly difficult.

Today, there's a clear gap in the market.

Prices and average PSF rates mentioned are indicative and based on prevailing market trends, IGR data, PE data and publicly available data at the time of publication. Actual prices may vary depending on project specifications, location, floor, inventory availability, market conditions, and negotiations. INTRODUCING THANE'S MOST AWAITED HOME BUYING OPPORTUNITY Kolshet has always been desired, but not always accessible. For those waiting for the right entry into this prime vicinity, the wait is over.

Presenting a first-of-its-kind address designed around personalised experiences – with a proposition that makes premium living in Kolshet more accessible than ever.
